Looking back at my own experience with Minecraft, it's so easy to see why people were so obsessed with it. The game was all about survival. It was about building a new life out of nothing. Things that would make you successful weren't free; they required you to work hard for them. But they were worth the wait, because it would mean you'd gather more items over time, and then you could make your house bigger or better fortified. The game was about connecting with your friends, and making sure that they were safe and able to live their own lives in the Minecraft world as well.

On September 11, 2021, Roblox announced that they would be adding new systems to help curb and prevent problems like "Miner's Haven". They stated that users who are reported for breaking these rules will be put on a probationary moderation period, or P-mod. P-mods can say they had violated these rules for up to 72 hours. If the user continues to break the rules and continue breaking it after 72 hours, Roblox will issue a permanent ban for both the user and their account. The users who are in this moderation period will not be able to play Roblox games until 72 hours pass from when the user is released from the P-mod status. The users will also receive a warning from Roblox before they are released from the P-mod status.

Roblox is governed by a global moderation team, consisting of volunteers and employees. Moderators monitor Roblox for inappropriate content like violence, nudity, profanity and copyright infringement. Moderators have the ability to mute, ban, or delete users from a game. Players can also report other players for inappropriate behaviour. In addition, moderators are expected to help players in need with moderation and issue resolution.
