As of April 2021, there are over 2,000 games on Roblox. Many of them are "clones" of other players' games made by other players, which can lead to copyright issues if the original creators do not want to share their work. Players may be able to report these games as well as block people who play them from their online profiles or in-game friends list. Some games have caused controversy with their focus on violence, sexuality and racism. However, Roblox staff have stated that the problem lies in the people who play these games, not in the games themselves.

ROBLOX has also been compared to popular game Minecraft. In many ways, they are similar; both games have been developed by one company (Tencent) and are usually sold on the same platform (Windows, OS X, iOS, Android). Another close similarity is that they both have their own in-game currency system. However, Minecraft has a different style of gameplay relating to platforming; while ROBLOX players build and destroy using building blocks, Minecraft players explore a world.

Once you have downloaded the app, then you can open it and see if there are any ads that show up. If there are a lot of ads, then I would suggest you to uninstall it and to download another app for your device.
